ESTIMATED POPULATION OF CZECHOSLOVAK CONCENTRATION CAMPS

[Comment: The following report con Czechoslovak concentration camps and the number of people held there comes from a non-Communist, semiofficial Greek newspaper. It is possible that the inmates at Pribram may be working in the silver mines, and those at Slapy on the new hydroelectric power plant. The exact location of Kladruby and of Nova Ves, two very common place names in Czechoslovakia, is not specified.]

It is estimated that there are 46 concentration and forced labor camps in operation in Czechoslovakia, holding a total of about 90,000 inmates. The following list shows some of the principal camps and the approximate number of prisoners in each:
